

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XX.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, JULY 26, 1892.

NO. 43

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

A large crowd from here attended the Richmond fair.

This is county court day and us the farmers are all busy, a small crowd is in town.

A man who can pull teeth "without causing the slightest ache or pain" was here last week raking in the shekels.

Mrs. J. M. Hiatt entertained a number of young folks Saturday night in honor of Miss Sue Layton, of Cincinnati.

The first piano made by Jonas Chickering was in 1823 and was sold for $25. It is now in the possession of George Chickering.

Rev. J. R. Terry leaves to-day for a three weeks' visit to his relatives in Indiana. There will be no preaching at the Presbyterian church next Sunday or the Sunday following.

Your correspondent acknowledges the receipt of an excellent photograph of his old friend and companion, Dr. Matthew David Logan, of Boyle. The doctor is one of nature's noblemen and his friends who wish him many more years upon the earth are to be found in all parts of the State.

The game of base ball played here Friday afternoon between the Nicholasville and Lancasters resulted in a victory for the latter by a score of 13 to 4. Towards the close of the game young Mr. Masters, of the Nicholasvilles, had his eye painfully injured by one of the boys accidentally striking him.

Friday's INTERIOR JOURNAL were carried by on the Kentucky Central "cannon ball" and went to Richmond. It is true that Richmond is only 26 miles from here, but it took the entire day for the aforesaid "cannon ball" to make the round trip. A good ox team could beat the time made by the great and only the Lord K. C. railway.

Mr. John Bogie, a former of this county, was before Judge Hemphill Saturday charged with evading a toll gate. It seems that Bogie's farm lies on both sides of the toll-house and he had a gate on one side and a pair of bars on the other and would use the side most convenient to his destination. After hearing the testimony Judge Hemphill fined the defendant $10.

Miss Helen Thurmond, of Stanford, is visiting Mrs. Uriah Simpson. Miss Beekle Pope, of Boyle, is the guest of Miss Mamie Sweeney. Prof. Merritt, the band teacher, has arrived and is boarding at Mr. Malcom Tillett's. Miss Besse Burndoe is visiting Miss Sue Herring. Miss Ella Dunn, of Bryantsville, and Miss Ballou, of Stanford, are the guests of Miss Mamie Noel. Mrs. Jacob Joseph and children are spending a few days with friends at Buckeye, Miss West, of Lexington, is visiting Miss Pattle Beazley. Miss Katie Landrau is the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. G. Dunlay, at Camp Nelson, Judge Walton Eason seems to be slowly improving.

The old time August election is a thing of the past, and the voter is a mourner in consequence thereof. To say the least of it, the distribution of green backs and shiny dollars has been postponed until the melancholy days of autumn. Nevertheless the candidates go about the streets and the voice of the office seeker is heard in the land. Hand shaking is the order of the day and will probably be kept up until the day after the election. The importance of hand shaking in a political contest cannot well be overestimated. A good, old-fashioned pump-handle shake is well calculated to impress the voter with the fact that the candidate is his friend, in all events until after the election—and that the man who desires his vote is giving a considerable amount of time to the contemplation of schemes for the promotion of his welfare. The fact that the hand shake is less frequent after the election is no reason why candidates should be censured, as most of them have more important things to attend to and are doubtless glad to be able to get a rest from such arduous service. Probably no man in the history of the world shook hands with so many people as General Grant, and it is known that while he never declined to follow the custom, he nevertheless considered it tiresome and to some extent useless. The European custom of bowing or using a simple word of recognition as "good morning" or "good evening" would seem to be amply sufficient. It is difficult to tell which is the most disagreeable, a cold shake or one that crunches the bones so that you are glad to be released. The old custom, however, will doubtless be kept up as long as Kentucky's seal remains unchanged with its motto: "United we stand; divided we fall."

Our Danville correspondent mentions the death of John T. Helm, familiarly known as "Big John," because of his height and weight. His death was caused by peritonitis and he bore his suffering manfully. A wife only survives him. He was 65 years of age.

William K. Vanderbilt's steam yacht Alva was run down and sunk by the steamer B. F. Dimock, off Pollock, R. I., lightship, but Mr. V. and his friends escaped; loss $500,000.

DANVILLE.

Father Brady, of the Catholic church, held services at Somerset last Sunday.

Mr. J. H. Engleman, of the Farmers Bank, has gone to Martinsville to try the baths for rheumatism.

Mr. Newton Hillard and Miss Missie Ann Rowsey, both of this county, were married at the Clemens House Saturday evening by Rev. J. S. Kendrick, of the Christian church.

The first piano made by Jonas Chickering was in 1823 and was sold for $25. It is now in the possession of George Chickering.

Rev. J. R. Terry leaves to-day for a three weeks' visit to his relatives in Indiana. There will be no preaching at the Presbyterian church next Sunday or the Sunday following.

Raised His Own Dictionary.—Mr. Albert Lewis is a prominent young farmer near Winnebago, Minn. He spent hundreds of dollars in endeavoring to recover from nervous prostration and a year ago was so low that a report of his death reached the editor of the Winnebago Press News. An obituary of Mr. Lewis appeared in that paper and was read by him. While in this condition he began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies and in a short time was a well man. Says he never felt better than now.

A sympathetic oculist of Nashville kissed a patient when she cried simply to soothe her, so he says, and she mentioned the fact to her father, as girls are apt to do. As a result the sympathetic oculist received a call from the irate parent, who, to soothe his own miffed feelings, administered a severe cowhiding, and now the Rock City is wrestling with a social sensation.—Post.

A private of the Pennsylvania troops at Homestead, who shouted when he heard of the shooting of H. C. Frick, was suspended by the thumbs for 30 minutes, by the colonel's orders, and was taken down unconscious. Later one side of his head was shaved, he was stripped of his uniform and drummed out of camp.

The town of Iron River, Mich., was almost totally destroyed by fire and 500 people were forced to sleep in cars that night. The loss is $200,000.

The Kentucky Stallion Representative Stake for trials of 1892 has been increased from $15,000 to a guaranteed stake of not less than $30,000. This will not affect odds of 1891.

The Jessamine Journal tells of a number of crops of wheat in that country that averaged 40 bushels to the acre. It is selling there at 70 cents and it is estimated that the crop will bring $275,000 into the county.

John S. Withrow sold his crop of barley, about 1,500 bushels, to Lingard, of Lexington, at 50 cents delivered in that city. His crop yielded an average of 42 bushels per acre.—Milway Clipper.

A colored phrenologist, claiming to be from Knoxville, has been well patronized by the whites here during the past week.

The motto of the Middlesboro News is, "I beg you, when you pitch your tent, pitch it among the living and not the dead." This is evidently a warning to those who contemplate moving to that place.

E. K. Wilson, of this place, has been appointed presidential elector on the republican ticket for the 11th congressional district. Napoleon Bonaparte Hayes and Mr. Wilson will make a team that will make the mountains reverberate, the like of which, &c., &c.

Jake Bell, Jr., who has been a citizen at this place for some time and who came here from Dayton, Ohio, has been in the habit of whipping his wife and gave her a thrashing last Wednesday. He left Wednesday night just in time to save himself from a similar treatment by indignant citizens.

Hazeldrigg, of Mt. Sterling, candidate for judge of the court of appeals, was here last Thursday making friends with all his met. SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., JULY 26, 1892

W. P. WALTON.

In answer to a question propounded by a West End reader, who, by the way, reads at some one else's expense since he stopped taking the paper because we do not endorse all the wild eyed schemes of the impracticable prohibitionists, though a prohibitionist personally, we will say that our statement with reference to the election law is correct. It provides that no party shall have its candidates voted for at a general election unless that party cast as much as two percent of the total vote of the State at the previous election. The reason of this is obvious. Under the new law the State provides all the ballots and other necessary adjuncts to voting and as the expense will be very great, our law makers do not think it necessary to increase it by printing ballots and books for every little squad of people calling themselves a party. The law provides, however, and we state it in plain enough terms, that any candidate's name will be put on the ballots and books provided that a petition signed by 1,000 voters accompanies the application. This gives our prohibition friends two chances: Either they must cast 2 per cent of the vote, which is small enough certainly, or they must hustle and get 1,000 names each for the candidates they want to vote for. If they mean business it will be easy enough for them to do the latter, since they failed at the last election to do the former.

It is only candidates for State offices who have to have 1,000 names to their petitions to be placed on the books and ballots; for Congressmen only 400 is required; for county officers, legislators, circuit judge and Commonwealth attorney, 100, and precinct officers 20. See see, S. art. 3 of the election law.

THERE was no trouble to get a man to manage the democratic campaign. In fact the supply of willing material was very large and in striking contrast to the republicans, who tried a dozen men before one would stick. This shows the relative feelings of confidence of the two parties and presages victory for ours. As predicted, W. F. Harrity, of Philadelphia, was chosen chairman of the National democratic committee unanimously and as the nomination was made by Hon. W. C. Whitney it would seem to have the official stamp of Mr. Cleveland. Simon P. Sheerin, of Indiana, was re-elected secretary, and Robert B. Roosevelt, of New York, was made treasurer. It was decided to appoint an executive committee of 25 members, a campaign committee of nine, and an advisory board. The question of establishing western headquarters at Chicago came up, but was postponed.

The election of a democratic president this year will restore democratic principles in National affairs, put an end to billion-dollar Congresses and other extravagances, bury that most monstrous blow at free elections, the force bill, reduce the tariff to a revenue basis, so as not to enrich the few at the expense of the many, bring expenditures to the limit of the necessities of government economically administered and restore prosperity and confidence over the whole country. These are things that the election of Grover Cleveland will accomplish and it behoves every patriotic citizen to do his utmost to make that election sure. A united democracy can do it and add sign point to the fact that it intends to see that Mr. Cleveland is again installed in the White House.

In his speech of acceptance of the nomination, Mr. Cleveland said this among other sound and sensible things: "We see the farmer listening to a definite story that fills his mind with advantage, while his pocket is robbed by the stealthy hand of high protection. Our workmen are still told the tale, of repeated in spite of its demonstrated futility, that the existing protective tariff is a boon to them, and that under its beneficent operation their wages must increase—while as they listen scenes are enacted in the very abiding place of high protection that mock the hopes of toil and attest the tender mercy the workingman receives from those made selfish and sordid by unjust governmental favors."

CONGRESSMEN who were present at the notification ceremonies in New York, have returned to Washington, full of enthusiasm over the party's prospects in that State. Every faction is getting together beautifully. Mr. McMillan says he talked with leading men from all over the State and was told that Cleveland would carry New York by an extraordinary majority. Tim Campbell says by 75,000. It seems to be the general opinion that a land slide will occur all over the country. So note it be.

TAMMANY entertained Cleve and Steve the other night, when everything was lovely and the goose hung high. They are getting together in New York in a way that makes the electoral vote of the Empire State sure for the democratic ticket.

Noland, Missouri's defaulting treasurer, was put in stripes Saturday. Dick Tate is still at large.

A SUMMER of Senators, headed by that slippery individual, Dave Smith, and assisted by those other sweet-scented scabs, Goebel and Milligan, rushed through a clause to retain the auditor's agent feature in the revenue bill by a resort to the most unparliamentary and disgraceful proceedings ever enacted in any deliberative body, not excepting Reed's menagerie. Goebel was put in the chair and carried through his part of the programme with an audaciousness rarely witnessed. The people are tired of the auditor's agent fraud and this action will serve to accentuate their feelings against it and kill the lovely trio politically as dead as door nails.

A RUSSIAN Jew printer named Berkman attacked H. C. Frick, manager of the Carnegie Steel Works, in his office at Pittsburgh and shot him twice in the neck and stabbed him several times. The world-be-assassin was captured and taken to jail, when a dynamite shell was found in his mouth. Berkman is a rabid anarchist and is not supposed to be connected with the strikers in any way. The law should make quick work of him. There is no place in this country for red-handed assassins but at the end of a rope attached to a beam.

ARBITRATORS sealed the tee of Helm & Brice in the case of the State against the Louisville Water Works from $25,000 to $17,500, which is about ten times as much as they should have been allowed. This firm has for years fattened off the public treasury through the partiality, as the Covington Commonwealth avers, of ex-Auditor Hewitt, and it is high time that it was let out. Such fees as they have charged and collected are a little less short of highway robbery.

LABORING men all over the country are learning that protection does not protect them and that the McKinley bill was designed to help such men as Carnegie at their expense. He is not only protected in his profits by that bill, but the State of Pennsylvania is now protecting his property at a cost of $21,000 a day to the people. If the Homestead incident does not make democrats out of every workmen, they are blind to every personal interest.

The price of a tooth has been fixed at $500 by an Atlanta jury. During the recent prohibition fight there a barkeeper named Miner whom Sam Small had spoken roughly of in a speech, jumped on him in a barber shop and knocked out one of his teeth. Small sued the fellow for $5,000 damages and a jury has just given him $500. Miner made no defense or the judgment might have been more.

The proposition to raise $6,000,000 for a new system of water works was defeated in Cincinnati by 11,000. They have enough water there. It is better than want and a better quality of whisky.

—A beer war is imminent in Cincinnati and the citizens are happy. Five of the largest breweries have reduced the price from $8 to $7 and the others will go them one better.

—The railroads operating in Mississippi gave in an assessment of $18,000,000 for taxation and the railroad commissioners raised it to $47,000,000. The L. & N. caught it for more than a million.

—A plan for endorsement by the democrats of the people's party presidential ticket in Colorado is said to have been approved by Mr. Cleveland and other prominent Eastern democratic leaders.

—There is a strong probability that this week will close the present session of Congress. Most of the differences between the Senate and House have been adjusted, except in regard to the Fair appropriation.

—At Redding, Cal., John D. and Chas. H. Ruggles, brothers, who robbed the Bedding stage, killed the express messenger and wounded the driver and a passenger, were taken from jail and lynched by a mob of about 40 men.

—TAMMANY entertained Cleve and Steve the other night, when everything was lovely and the goose hung high. They are getting together in New York in a way that makes the electoral vote of the Empire State sure for the democratic ticket.

—Noland, Missouri's defaulting treasurer, was put in stripes Saturday. Dick Tate is still at large.

AN OUTRAVE.—The White Cap girls at Hager Well are said to have tied Warren Becker to a tree and beaten him with many stripes because he would not promise to marry one of them.

THE other day the Louisville Times had a picture of Old Nick looking at a thermometer in which the mercury was trying to get out at the top and saying, "If it gets much hotter on earth I'm going back home." Yesterday settled it, and the old scamp went back to hades in order to find a cool spot.

We are going to adopt the plan hit upon by a Western editor to keep subscriptions paid up. It is to invert the letters of every delinquent whose name is mentioned. For example: "Pough-ponss and wife are spending a few days in Chicago." Every other subscriber understands what it means and there is a grand rush to get right side up again.

THE lumber in the amphitheatre and other buildings on the fair grounds was sold at auction Saturday afternoon. It was bought by different parties at from 45 cents to $1 per hundred feet. As soon as it is measured and the money collected, the directors will meet and see how the enterprise will come out financially. It looks now as if there will be a loss of about $1 per share.

THE drought is becoming serious. The corn is twisting badly and the meadows are dry and parched. A hot wave has been bearing down on us too for a week, making breathing a difficult operation. The mercury reached 100° in the shade yesterday.

THE other night John Anderson, who was caught in bad company at least once before, came to town and sought the smiles of those tough old negro sinners, Lucy Hansford and Vina Williams. After leaving them John found himself minus $80 odd dollars and seeking an officer, he had the women arrested. They were lodged in jail and the trial set for yesterday morning, but Anderson failed to appear against them and the case went over till this afternoon, when Anderson again failed to appear and Judge Carson, after listening to the statements of the women, which were the most vilely vulgar ever heard in any court room, discharged them.

SCATTER SEEDS OF KINDNESS.
From Dear Kate's Scrap-Book, and Published in Affectionate Remembrance of Her.

There was never a golden sunbeam
That fell on a desolate place,
But left some trace of its presence
That time could never efface.
Not a sound of ineffable sweetness
That ravished the listening ear,
That slumbered in silence forgotten
For many and many a year—

But a word or a tone might awaken
Its magical powers anew,
Long after the sweet-voiced singer
Had faded from earthly view.
Nor a heart that was ever so weary,
Or tainted with sin and despair,
But a word of tender compassion
Might find an abiding-place there.

Yet countless thousands are yearning
For sympathy, kindness and love,
And souls are groping in darkness
Without one gleam from above.
There was never a sunbeam wasted,
Nor a song that was sung in vain,
And souls that seem lost in the shadows
A Savior's love may reclain.

Then scatter seeds of kindness,
Though your deeds may never be known,
The harvest will ripen in glory
If the seeds be faithfully sown;
And life will close with a blessing,
Like the golden hues of the sunbeam
That fade into endless gray.

Guaranteed Cure for La Grippe.

Written by Mr. A. A. Warren.

AH—HURRAH FOR THE BONNIE BLUE FLAG.

Oh! here's to Grover Cleveland
The brave, the tried, the true,
And here's to A. E. Stevenson,
We know that he will do.

These are our standard-bearers,
We know our cause is just,
Well we'll win the battle with them,
We can, we will, we must.

CHORUS

Hurrah! Hurrah!
For Cleveland and reform,
Hurrah for Grover Cleveland
And A. E. Stevenson.

The first democratic President
We had for thirty years;

He proved so patriotic,
He dispelled the people's fears

That when the democrats got in
They'd turn the country over

To the rebels and the mudwamps,
But not so with our Grover.

For sale by Dr. M. L. Bourne, Druggist and Optician, Stanford, Ky.

CHORUS

He filled the high position
Of President of this Nation,

With glory to his party

And the highest exaltation—

Of his sense of justice and of right,
To men of all conditions,

The rich, the poor, the high, the low,
The private after pensions

CHORUS

We've tried four years of Harrison,
We've tried four years of him,

We'll try our glorious ticket,

We're sure that it will win.

We're going to get the people's choice,

We'll gain the victory,

We're determined that our people
From high tariff shall be free.

CHORUS

We'll lift the burden from our sons,
Our fathers and our men,

We'll vote for honest Grover,

Go back on Grandpa's bean.

We'll turn the Clarksons and the Quays,

The Platts and Duddies too,

We're for the whole great people,

The red, the white, the blue.

CHORUS

We think our man, Will Harris,

Who hails from Penn's old woods,

Can down the Harrison cow-boy.

We've got dollars to their goods

That say our Cleveland's "hit."

Until the fight is over,

We believe that next November

Will give it to our Grover.

CHORUS

He'll veto Lodge's force bill,

He'll stop the treasury steal,

He'll go for Andrew Carnegie,

He'll make the "barons" squeal

He's for the golden dollar,

And for the greenback, too,

He's down on silver dollars

That are worth but seventy-two

CHORUS

So here's to Grover Cleveland,

The brave, the tried, the true,

The greatest representative

Democracy ever knew

We're for him for his honesty,

His patriotism and his truth,

His backbone, strict integrity,

His Frances and his Ruth

CHORUS

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

At present there is no law to make traction engines pay toll on turnpikes and to remedy it a bill has been presented in the House.

The House refuses to accede to the Senate's demand for free cigarettes. It wants them sold only when a license of $300 is paid to do so.

The value of bank and corporation stocks and franchises to be assessed by the State auditor, under the revenue and taxation bill, as amended by the Senate, is over $200,000,000.

Courty Judges are receiving copies of the new magisterial redistributing law, under which they must apportion commissioners who must get to work redistricting the counties by the first Monday in next month.

The bill to prevent any person from being an engineer until he has been a fireman four years, which has passed the House, ought to be carefully considered by the Senate and rejected. Such a law is not needed for the purpose it is intended to be for.
